

How to use GakuNin (Web of Science)

<https://www.webofscience.com/wos/woscc/basic-search>

You can access library-subscribed e-resources from home via GakuNin.

You can login with SSO (Single Sign On)
